

STAT

Miskovsky Leaves CIA For FMC Post

Milan Miskovsky, for the last 13 years assistant general counsel of the Central Intelligence Agency, has been appointed solicitor of the Federal Maritime Commission.

Mr. Miskovsky took over his new post on August 28.

CIA employees are forbidden by law to discuss their work, even after leaving the agency. However, Mr. Miskovsky has become known to newsmen covering at least three major stories in the last decade.

During the negotiations between Attorney James Donovan and Fidel Castro for ransom of the Bay of Pigs prisoners, newsmen often saw Mr. Miskovsky in Miami, Fla., and learned that he played an important part in the dramatic case.

Earlier, when U-2 Pilot Francis Gary Powers appeared at Capitol Hill to testify on his experiences as a prisoner in the USSR, Mr. Miskovsky was at the side of the witness.

Earlier this week, Mr. Miskovsky's name cropped up in the news as the CIA representative who discussed the controversial Kaplan Fund with the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The tax-exempt fund was "surfaced" as a CIA channel by Representative Patman, Democrat of Texas, at a hearing of the House Small Business Subcommittee.

A native of Chicago, Mr. Miskovsky now lives in Chevy Chase with his family. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Michigan and his Bachelor of Laws degree at George Washington University. He has served in the Army in Europe and was with the Department of Agriculture before joining CIA.